WEST VIRGINIA'S SPEED AT TRIAL START IS HIGHER THAN COLORADO'S

CRUISER WEST VIRGINIA, TO-DAY TRYING TO BEAT SISTER SHIP COLORADO.

Two Starts Made by the Cruiser, the Last One Being Entirely Successful.

The atmosphere was clear and the wind was calm.

Not Warmed Up.
The cruiser had not been warmed up enough to reach her top speed at the start and the builders took advantage of their right to make another start.

She was built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Her keel was laid Sept. 16, 1901, and she was launched April 15, 1902. She was christened by Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Jr. She is the largest ship ever built by the American shipbuilding company. She has a powerful armament and the most modern armor protection.

Expect Great Race.
With the record of the Colorado for the West Virginia is expected to make the greatest race against time ever accomplished by an American vessel. Captain Meyer, the shore captain for the West Virginia, will guide the ship.

Weather Conditions Good.
The weather conditions were perfect for today's trial. The sea was calm, and there was little wind.

Woolen Industry Tariff.
The tariff laws on these materials were about $12,000,000. The tariff laws on the machinery and buildings would bring the total up to $18,000,000. This would mean a 20 per cent of the factory cost of the goods, and which increases their selling price 25 per cent, a great hardship.

CAMBRIDGE MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL'S SPEEDY ELEVEN LINED UP READY FOR THE WORD

[This photograph was taken by a BOSTON AMERICAN camera artist while the Cambridge Manual boys were practicing at their field.]

Although the Somerville and Dorchester High School elevens have large coteries of admirers who think they are going to win the Intercollegiate League championship, Cambridge Manual Training is not without its army of followers, who pick it to capture the league honors.

Captain Park's eleven will meet Cambridge Latin Friday in the battle which will decide the championship of the Triangular League of Cambridge. The C. M. T. B. boys showed their true form when they whipped Malden High, 22 to 0, in their first league contest.

TUFTS SIFTS REASONS FOR BROWN TO DAY

Special to the Boston American.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 2.—Brown lines up against Tufts today on Andrews Field. The main purpose of the game is to give Brown practice before the Yale football game.

Tufts has been up against it in the worst way this season, and has only one victory to his credit out of six games played. Last Saturday, the Brown team defeated Tufts by a score of 10 to 0. On the other hand, the Tufts team has thus far suffered have been very heavy.

Columbus, week as it is this year, succeeded in piling up 21 points against Brown, while Tufts was able to make 12 points. New York State defeated Tufts by a field goal, and Worcester Polytechnic Institute defeated her by the score of 17 to 0.

Perhaps the simplest way of comparing Brown with Tufts would be by means of the Vermont game. Brown defeated the latter 20 to 0, while Tufts broke even with Vermont only two weeks ago by the score of 6 to 6.

As it is impossible to compare teams in any game with Brown, but "there" may be evident that Tufts has lost little since the Vermont game. Coach Hadden expects about the same score as the Vermont game, as he will apply it to a number of scrubs.

May Play Scrub Eleven.

It will be all probability a scrub eleven which will line up against Tufts, as Coach Hadden desires to save his men for the game with Yale. It is evident from reports that Yale expects an easy game with Brown, but "there" may be a twist in the cup and the lip" and the Tufts team may surprise the Yale, and the latter may be forced to win or lose by a narrow margin.

Brown can count on a very certain showing made by the Providence College team, which will be the only team to play in the game, as the latter has in their midst, as strange things happen, a number of players.

If Brown can lead Yale to a small victory, then comes the game with Tufts, and it will be a very interesting one, as the latter has a strong ground game, and he will be sorely tested.

DR. BOUTH'S FIP FORM

Special to the Boston American.

ANNOVER, N. H., Nov. 2.—Coach Fowler is working hard and aims to get their Dartmouth eleven ready for Harvard Saturday. Although the boys haven't yet shown that they are as strong as last year's eleven, which won the championship, they have given promise of developing into a team which will be a credit to the college.

Polio is not giving the men the biggest trouble. Coach Fowler says that the team is in the midst of a very hard season, and that the players will be in the best of form for the game with Tufts.

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, Nov. 2.—The track has worked well and may get the long part of the money in the nation two-year-old race this afternoon. He will be a very light horse to ride.

YALE KICKERS ARE FAST RECOVERING

Special to the Boston American.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—Yale is the week in which small injuries seem to make their appearance on the Yale football players. McGee's sprained ankle is rapidly mending, and he may be used in the Brown game next Saturday. Bloom's knee is feeling better, and he is expected at the Yale game this afternoon.

In the case of Thomas a severe cold has bothered him for several days, but he is now practically as well as ever. He played against Columbia, feeling poorly, but insisted on sticking to his post throughout the game. "The boys' head has recovered from the effects of the bump on the head," says Bloom, "and he is now the signal general for two days. More so, as he has a cold, but he is now feeling better. Hoy and Triggs it was thought better yesterday to give them a day's lay-off. All were today in condition to lead their team again.

Druid, Levine, the clever second eleven halfback, is out of the game for the remainder of the season with a badly sprained knee. Reluctantly complications prevented him making the varsity this year. At Yale it is strongly hoped that Harvard's turn of hard luck is just, and that the Crimson will land the game Saturday.

Experts Solving Pigskin

Special to the Boston American.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—Walter Cook, Yale head coach, and a leading American football authority, has received a letter from the Yale University of California team in the annual rivalry game on Saturday. The letter was a request for a meeting to discuss the game, and the Yale team has agreed to meet the California team on Saturday.

English High to Meet Dorchester

The football games are expected Saturday in the Intercollegiate League series, when English High eleven journeys to Dorchester to play the local high school team, and Malden High encounters Somerville at the home of the latter.
